The axis announced today that it, too, in Egypt captured Matruh this morning, thus reducing the first of the defense strongholds on the coast to the rich valley of the Nile, the naval base of Alexandria and the Suez canal.

The British did not deny the

But indications were that allied forces making up the eighth British army had withdrawn to take another stand in desperate search for positions from which the axis juggernaut could be halted.

On one point of the axis claims there was official British agreement—that Rommel's forces, successfully by passing Matruh's western and southern defense positions, in the state of battle had

Today's RAF communique from Cairo contained no hint on the course of the land battle. It reported merely that axis truck and tank concentrations were attacked throughout Saturday and Sunday nights, with large fire-arms spraying up between Matruh and Salum, at the Libyan border, and that during Sunday Flehlers reconsidered the fee and provided cover for the defense force.

The Cairo communique said the conflict was spreading over "a very large area." It said no details were available, leaving the general situation in doubt on this third day of the warring battle.

Mobile and armored forces of both sides were reported fiercely engaged northwest as well as southeast of Matruh.

An additional threat—still not materialized—to the Mediterranean flank of the defense forces in Egypt was a concentration of German air power and air troops on the island of Crete.

O.K. TOJO—
you asked for it!

YOU dished it out, with a head start by treachery—now we're going to see how you can take it!

We're ganging up on you, Tojo, in a way you and your Nazi friends don't understand.

Spreading like wildfire from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico is our Payroll Savings Plan—get that, Tojo? Not confiscation—savings.

By the tens of millions, workers and employes of plants in every state of our country are cooperating with their unions and with management.

Of their own free will they're agreeing to put ten percent—a dime from every dollar—of their earnings in United States WAR BONDS.

Every payday the plant management sets aside this ten percent, then, each time it adds up to $18.75, the worker gets his Bond.

See, Tojo? Hundreds of millions of good U. S. dollars are going into the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships to blast you right out of your sandals!

And we're paying for it... the workers and employers... the farmers, doctors, lawyers... all of us of our own free will.

And—because this is the American way of doing things—we're building our own financial security, too, against the day when the war will be over—when we've shown you what decent, clean, free people can do.

Every year those War Bonds of ours increase in value, Tojo, until, after ten years, Uncle Sam hands us back TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS for every $18.75 we invested in beating you.

Get it, Tojo? It isn't the Jap way, the Nazi way, nor the Fascist way.

It's the free American way!

So, when you see those clouds of planes over your troops, your ships and your factories—when the tanks come at you

5 Reasons Why

① By investing in War Bonds you help provide the planes, the tanks, the guns and the ships we must have to survive and conquer.

② You prove that you are a patriotic American.

③ You aid the morale of our fighting men, by showing them that the entire Nation is behind them.

④ You prove to our enemies that we are a United People.

⑤ You protect your own financial future, as every $18.75 you invest in a War Bond brings you back $25 in 10 years. You make the world's safest investment, by buying a share in the world's most powerful country.

spitting lead—and our good American boys get you on the run—remember, we're paying for it—Smith, and Harrigan, and Cohen, and Godowsky, and Leblanc, and Havlek, Americans all, in a free country

So take it, Tojo—you asked for it!

NELSON OPTIMISTIC ON PLANE OUTPUT

But Declares Consumers' Outlook Is Bad

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 22—Congress received an optimistic report from Donald M. Nelson today that plane, tank and ship objectives will be met, but that the outlook for the consumer "is very bad."

The chief of the war production board made those statements in reviewing the WPB's work before a House appropriations subcommittee.

"I believe that we are over the hump," he said, "and from now on it becomes a question of improvement in process of getting better distribution of raw material and seeing that production is turned to strategy."

Nelson told the subcommittee that President Roosevelt's goal of 18,000,000 tons of shipping would be met, and added: "We can beat it, if we can get the steel plate."

He said he was "certain we will meet the tank objective."

The government currently is setting up facilities to meet the quota of 125,000 planes next year, he said.

Saying that the outlook for the consumer is very bad, Nelson said the nation would have enough food and clothing and would be "incomparably better off" than England or Germany.

Although his primary responsibility in connection with the plant is its operation, he has been actively interested in all phases of its construction. He was in Chicago on a brief vacation leave when he suffered the illness.

Party Honors
Major Lockridge
The recent promotion of a Robert W. Lockridge, resident engineer for the Scioto Ordnance Plant construction project, to the rank of major was the occasion of a supper dance held by plant employees Saturday night. Approximately 350 persons attended the celebration held at the Marion Country club.

The affair was sponsored by the office employees of the area engineers and serving as a committee in charge of arrangements were: Hazel A. Shorter, Mrs. Marie Huddleston, Mrs. Rachael Morgan, Kenneth Mahoney and Lionel Mantel. The guests were from the offices of Holabird & Root, Hunkin-Conkey, the Marion war area depot and sub-contractors.

Dancing provided entertainment early in the evening and at midnight a buffet supper served, arranged by Chris Turoff, of Tur-off Bros, was served.

Except for four minor items, the committee's report said, "all of the amount . . . has a direct relation to the war effort."

The report and published hearings made these disclosures: Government expenditures for war purposes soon will near $6,000,000,000 a month and require the employment of between 60 and 65 per cent of the nation's industry.

Production of aviation gasoline is at least 50 per cent higher than the maximum which had been believed possible several months ago.

Civilian pilot training courses have been taken by 15,000 sons of whom 30,000 already in the air services and 10,000 in the ground arms.

To combat espionage, sabotage and other subversive activity and to help enforce anti-protection laws in the vicinity of military camps, the FBI is adding "G-men" to its staff.

At a cost of approximately $500,000 each, the public works administration is building 25 plane landing strips, along coast in connection with air operations against submarines for use as auxiliary and emergency landing fields.

NAZIS POUND RUSSIAN LINE

German Hunt Weak Spots in Red Defenses in Kursk Region.

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, June 29.—Probing the resilient Russian line for weakness, the Germans were pushing out from Kursk about 150 miles south of Moscow today in a new drive presumably aimed at cutting the vital railway connecting the southern and central fronts.

The new offensive—the fourth since the Germans broke through the Soviet defenses of Sevastopol—fought off a succession of brutal Axis blows at the Black Sea fortress, now under attack for the twenty-fifth day. Other Red army units were counter-attacking fiercely in the Kharkov region and winning back some ground from dispatches said.

No Details of Battle
Today's mid-day Soviet communiqué gave no details of the fighting east of Kursk, saying merely that during the night in the Kursk and Sevastopol directions our troops engaged the enemy in battle.

The new drive against Kursk began Sunday and the Germans said only that the offensive had gone over to the offensive there. The drive was pointed directly at Voronezh, 120 miles to the east, an important railway center 300 miles south of Moscow and about 400 miles north of Rostov, the gate to the Caucasus now held by the Russians.

The Russian winter offensive had failed to dislodge the Germans from Kursk and the Russian line in this region runs roughly north and south to the east of Kharkov, Kursk and Orel. A German breakthrough east of Kursk could not only threaten vital Russian communications, but also could be maneuvered to bring the Russian forces in the Kharkov sector into reach of an encirclement movement from the north.

Nazi Drive Blunted
Dispatches from the Kharkov front said that the German drive through Kursk, 60 miles southeast of Kharkov, had been blunted and that Russian troops had taken the offensive, throwing tanks, planes and even an armored train into the battle. The Germans were retreating in some areas, the reports said.

Although admitting that the Germans "succeeded in somewhat pressing our units" in one sector of the bitter siege of Sevastopol, the Russians announced that "on all other sectors the enemy attacks were repulsed with enormous losses to him."

Now in custody of the FBI following their arrest in New York earlier last week are these men described as having been landed in the U. S. from a Nazi submarine to sabotage America's war effort. They are identified by the FBI as George John Dasch (top left), 39, who worked as a waiter in New York and California before his return to Germany last year; Heinrich Harm Heinck, 35, who was employed in various factories and restaurants in New York before returning to Germany in 1939; Herbert Haupt, 22, below left, arrested in Chicago; and Herman Neubauer, below right.

More Arrests Made in Nazi Spy Ring

factories involved, but you may be sure the department of justice will proceed with this case swiftly and thoroughly.

While Biddle did not say what specific charges might be brought, other sources pointed out that penalties ranging up to death could be asked.

Because the dynamiters came ashore in German military uniforms and then changed to civilian clothes they could be classed as spies and shot—perhaps by a military squad.

Under the war-time espionage act they might be imprisoned up to 30 years.

Spy System Broken
The fact that the Germans (who have boasted of their efficiency in subversive activities) resorted to the expedient of smuggling in saboteurs showed that Nazi attempts to build up a sabotage system in pre-war days had been crushed, Washington officials said.

Both Biddle and Hoover have asserted in the past that efforts to establish an internal system of sabotage in the United States had failed. In this connection, it was noted that since and just before the entrance of the United States into the war there had been a series of prosecutions and convictions under laws relating to subversive activities.

Hoover said four of the Germans landed by rubber boat June 13 from a submarine within 500 yards of the beach at Amagansett, Long Island, a sparsely settled section about 100 miles east of New York and not far from the extreme tip of Long Island.

Four days later, he added, the other group was put ashore from a German submarine believed to have come from a German port in occupied France at Ponte Vedra Beach, near Jacksonville, Fla.

The FBI chief did not explain how the information of the landings was received, but immediately FBI agents began a search which resulted eventually in the capture of all eight. Six are in federal custody in New York and the other two are at Chicago.

Have Full Statements
We have their full statements of confession, Hoover said. "We have all the plans they brought with them."

These plans called for destruction of key railroad centers and bridges in and near New York City, the bombing of three plants of the Aluminum Co. of America, destruction of the hydroelectric plant at Niagara Falls, bombing of New York City's water supply system and disruption of certain inland waterway links.

The main attack called for the mission appeared to be centered on the light-metal industry by which the Nazis hoped to delay the United States program of airplane construction.

For these purposes, Hoover added, the Germans brought with them large cases of explosives, bombs looking like lumps of coal, pen and pencil bombs, fuses, delayed timing instruments, incendiary pistols and a collection of acids. The materials were buried in the beach sands and have been recovered by the FBI.

The plan also called for planting bombs in public places with the obvious intent of shaking civilian morale.

Typical of the thoroughness with which the Germans planned the mission was the fact that all eight had lived in the United States and two actually were American citizens, one naturalized, while the other had derived citizenship as a minor when his father became naturalized.

The FBI chief added that all had been members of the German-American Bund, or the Friends of New Germany in this country, and had been returned to Germany between 1930 and 1941 at the expense of the German consulate in New York.

Black Tom Case Recalled
While the United States suffered from some sabotage in the First World War, notably the Black Tom explosion, those activities were carried out by agents in the country before the declaration of war with Germany.

The Black Tom explosion—of huge quantities of munitions in the Kingsland, N. J., area—destroyed millions of dollars worth of property. Whether or not it was caused by saboteurs was a point of controversy for many years. A German-American Mixed Claims Commission finally decided it was.

That decision was rendered after the German member had withdrawn in protest against some of the evidence admitted.

Although there were reports during the first war that some agents had been smuggled in on sabotage missions, justice department officials said they were unable to find any authentic record of such incidents.

Battle for Egypt Puts British in Critical Position

By DE WITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Things apparently weren't going well for the British in the battle for Egypt at this great engagement, upon which so much all-hill hope depends, moved into its third day.

Both Berlin and Rome claimed Axis forces had occupied Matruh, the coastal stronghold to which the British right wing was anchored. Simultaneously a London military commentator said there was some reason for thinking that the British had withdrawn all troops from the Matruh area.

There was no official confirmation of the Matruh claim, but should it prove to be true it would mean that the British situation had become exceedingly grave.

It would make most precarious the position of the great naval, air and military base of Alexandria 160 miles away. And should Alexandria succumb it would be a catastrophe.

British headquarters in Cairo did announce that the conflict had penetrated deeper into this strategic zone—meaning, of course, that Nazi Field Marshal Rommel had fought his way farther forward. Word that the battle had spread to the southeast of Matruh made it clear that he was trying to turn the British southern flank and that he might be making progress.

There is danger that Hitler may choose this critical moment to employ his Airforce either to strengthen Rommel's attack in a desperate effort to try a lightning invasion of Syria with air-borne troops.

The Greek government in exile stated in London today that the Nazis have moved thousands of troops by air into Crete this month and also have considerably increased their air force. Crete certainly is the breeding ground of trouble for the allies in the near and Middle East.

Mr. Michel, Marion attorney who is a resident of Prospect township, was named secretary to succeed William K. Davis of Marion, who was granted leave of absence for duration of the war. Mr. Davis recently was inducted in the United States army.

Mr. Davis' place on the board was filled by the appointment of Mr. Philbrook, of Philbrook, who moved to Marion after his Grand Prairie township farm was taken over as part of the Scioto Ordnance plant, will resign as the Grand Prairie township representative on the board.

Overflow of Horses.

There'll be oceans of horses for Marion's two-week Little Grand Circuit harness meeting opening Wednesday. Frank M. Foster, secretary of the Marion Trotting association, predicted today after receiving several eleventh-hour requests for stall space.

More than 125 horses were quartered in the fair-ground speed barns Saturday night and an additional 50 in the nation's leading performers were brought in yesterday. At least 200 horses are expected to be on hand by the 8 p. m. post time, Wednesday.

Workmen today were engaged in erection of additional stalls in several of the fairground buildings. Several stalls already have been set up in the cattle barn and vegetable hall.

Veteran Wayne Groves of Pinehurst, N. C., who has been named presiding judge for the meet, arrived Saturday to complete pre-meet arrangements. H. H. Hartman of Quakertown, Pa., associate judge, also was among the early arrivals. Steve Phillips of Xenia, veteran Grand Circuit starter, is slated to arrive here today or Tuesday.

Following are a few of the leading trainers who arrived over the weekend for early training: Ike McKim of Pittsfield, Ind.; Bob Valley of Indianapolis; Ralph Baldwin of Shelbyville, Ind.; Saunders Mills of Toledo; Benny Stunkow of Danville, Ind.

Program for the opening week of the meet is as follows:

Wednesday, 2:23 p. m. and 2:23 and three-year-old trot.

Thursday, 2:18 p. m. and 2:18 and two-year-old paces.

Friday, 2:16 p. m. and 2:16 and two-year-old trot.

Saturday, classified trot and free-for-all, and three-year-old paces.

Program for the second week of the meet will include the early closing plus additional coverage of the meet.

Meanwhile, advanced sale of season tickets under the direction of members of the Women's Board of the Marion City hospital continued to progress. Proceeds of the meet will be donated to the hospital.

WORLD SERIES MAY EVEN FINISH UP ON PACIFIC COAST

Frick Due in Chicago for Parley with Landis on Service Benefit Plans

NEW YORK, June 29.—Will the World Series be revamped even to permitting the annual classic to wind up on the Pacific coast?

Ford Frick, president of the National League, was due in Chicago today for a conference with K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, and the New York's journey immediately revived talk heard in every major league dugout during the past few days.

Three changes in the rules have been proposed and all three as their objective the gathering of funds for army and navy relief and for USO.

Under Plan No. 1, the series would be extended to nine games from the present seven with the service funds benefiting from the extra contests.

Possible Tour. Plan No. 2 has the pennant winners deciding the world title in seven days before going on a barnstorming tour of the country.

Most revolutionary is Plan No. 3, which would have the competing lineups two games in advance of the actual opening of a road journey of nine to 11 games each contest to count toward the championship.

Under that setup the deciding battle might be played in such places as Toledo, Denver or San Francisco.

In the latter cases, cities with major league ball clubs would be avoided and the wandering series taken to places having the larger and better minor league plants.

All the major chiefs of big league baseball have remained quiet.

William Harridge, president of the American League, and Landis were slated to meet at Chicago last night.

Conference Set. At Frick's home here it was learned he was en route to Chicago for a conference with Landis today.

This precedes by eight days a scheduled meeting of the big three with the club owners at the major league all-star game at the Polo Grounds on July 7.

The receipts of that contest and of the game in Cleveland the following night in which the winner of the first game plays an all-star military team will provide playing equipment for soldiers and sailors.

Dean's Single Salvages Second Game; Reds Divide Pair with Dodgers.

On The Local Front

CHICAGO, June 29.—Manager Lou Boudreau's pre-season announcement that the Cleveland Indians would be satisfied to end their baseball season in the first division looked solid today as the Tribe opened a four game series here.

The Redskins split a doubleheader with second place Boston yesterday posting the first 3 to 2 and winning the nightcap 3 to 2.

To their series. This settled the Indians in third place, nine games behind the league leading Yankees and 3 1/2 behind Boston, but only three percentage points above the Detroit Tigers.

Chubby Dean, pinch hitting for Boudreau in the eighth inning in yesterday's second game, slapped out a single to break a tie and give the Indians their only victory over Boston.

Hockett opened the eighth with a single, Kather sacrificed again, and Hockett got to third on a sacrifice bunt. Although there were two outs, Fleming was purposely passed for the third time. It was then that Dean cracked his single to center that meant that margin of victory.

Drop First Game. The Redskins pushed over a run in the second inning of the first game yesterday, but collapsed in the fifth game when Boston scored eight runs on seven hits and an error.

It begins to look as if the New York Yankees, expected by many to be a team to watch, might be in first place at that stage of the campaign if they don't pull out of their current spin.

Kicked around at three stops out of four on their two-week swing to the west, the Yankees hit bottom yesterday when the Chicago White Sox mauled them twice, 2-0 and 3-0.

White Sox, who took the sixth place in the world with their first double defeat of the year but they did it at the expense of top notch pitchers, Red Ruffing and Ernie Bonham.

As a result, the Yankee lead shrank to five and a half games.

To make matters worse, Yankee Manager Joe McCarthy was put to bed with a recurrence of the internal ailment that plagued him last season and was unable to leave with the team last night for Philadelphia.

Lyons 23rd Win. Ted Lyons out-pitched Ruffing in the first game to draw even with the Yankee hurler in lifetime record of 23 1/2 triumphs.

The Detroit Tigers also split a pair with the Philadelphia Athletics and missed a chance to climb over the Indians into third place.

Hal Newhouser pitched three-hit ball in gaining a 2-1 decision for the Tigers, but Luman Harris blanked them on five hits in the afternoon.

Washington's Senators, noted out of the St. Louis Browns, 14-13 and 7-6.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, leaders of the National League, narrowly escaped the Yankees' fate when Joe Medwick tripled to give them a 2-1 triumph over Cincinnati in the second game after the Reds had barged the opener, 6-3.

Pittsburgh Wins. Seven home runs carried Pittsburgh to a double victory over New York 8-7 and 9-3. Elbie Fletcher's four-bagger in the ninth inning decided the first game after the Giants had tied the score four times.

Tommy Hughes pitched the Philadelphia Phils to a 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in 15 innings but the Cards took the second game, 2-1, behind the five-hit hurling of Lon Warneke and stayed nine games behind the Dodgers.

Jim Tobin tossed a three-hitter as the Boston Braves blanked the Chicago Cubs for the second straight time, 3-0, but after 21 scoreless innings the Cubs rallied to win the nightcap, 5-1.

Hawks Destined for Long Stay in Ohio State Loop Basement

By LOREN W. TIBBALS. Marion Star Sports Editor.

The Marion baseball players are destined for a long stay in the Ohio State semi-pro basement.

Yesterday, the lowly Fostoria Red Flares, were the hosts of the Hawks. However, the Hawks repeated one-sided victory over the Red Flares, 11-3, in a devastating 11-3 victory over the Hawks yesterday at Lincoln park. It was Fostoria's first victory over Marion after three earlier losses.

In more ways than one the Hawks are the goats of the Ohio semi-pro circuit.

The fact that the Hawks' mis-leading nickname in view of their style of play have dropped their record to 1-10 in reality is a reflection of many previous occasions.

However, early in yesterday's game Ray Roseberry, manager of the Hawks and more or less directly responsible for Marion having a representative in the semi-pro league, announced that he was resigning his position.

His resignation climaxes a great baseball record in the Marion area. About 25 years ago he was one of the leading hurlers in this area.

Following the game team members voted Roseberry's position to Ted Anderson, a veteran local backstop who in 1936 was to join the Pittsburgh Pirates system. An accident just before the start of the season however cancelled any professional ambitions he had.

Whether or not Anderson can run the team as he sees fit, his future success will be governed by the current local conditions. Also it will be necessary to watch the finances rather than the baseball progress if a first division berth is awaiting the locals.

Steelmakers Sought For Navy Benefit Game

MIDDLETOWN, O., June 29.—Lieut. Gordon (Rigney) Cochran's Great Lakes naval training station baseball team will attempt for the second time this month to stage a navy relief benefit contest with the Armco Steelmakers of the Indiana-Ohio league at Armco Field tonight.

The unbeaten Steelmakers may face their first major league pitching if Cochran assigns Johnny Rigney, former White Sox pitcher to the mound. Manager Suddy Bloebaum expected to start southpaw Jack Niemes, winner of four 1-0 victories.

HEAFNER'S 264 TIES WORLD GOLF RECORD IN MAHONING OPEN

PGA, However, Won't Recognize Score Because Course Is Too Short

By The Associated Press. GIRDAR, O., June 28.—More over, Craig Wood's Big Claym Heafner is nudging in on the low scoring golf business.

The Durham, N. C., marksman shaved eight strokes from par in a post-sensational 264 in successful defense of his Mahoning Open golf title yesterday.

His 72 hole total gave a $1,000 first prize and tied the world record of 264 established by Craig Wood in the 1940 Metropolitan open. The P. G. A. announced today, however, that it wouldn't go into the books since the Mahoning Valley golf club's 8,004-yard layout is several hundred yards too short.

Fred Corcoran, P. G. A. tournament manager, said the P. G. A. did not recognize low scores on any layout shorter than 8,400 yards.

Heafner finished three strokes ahead of Horton Smith of Pinehurst, N. C., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Harrisburg, Pa., who completed 267 and 268, respectively.

Big Clay seldom a winner but frequently a leader (for a while said this time his iron shots were deadly and his drives were true. Only once on his third round did he go as high as par, his eighth hole reading 68, 63, 68 and 65.

At 7: Saturday sank Ben Hogan's Hershey, Pa., star with golf's leading money winner $11,623. Victor in the recent Hale America tourney, Ben pulled into a third place tie at 268 with two others; thanks to fine Sunday rounds of 66 and 65. This day locked him with Lloyd Hanau of Monterey Park, Cal., and Gene Kunes of Philadelphia, each whom pocketed $75.

British Reverses in Egypt Finds Market Calm; Some Advances Made.

By The Associated Press
 NEW YORK, June 29—Further British reverses in Egypt today found the stock market calm, with modest advancing tendencies in the majority.
 The list held to a slim area.
 Dealings remained relatively sluggish.
 The apparent fall of Mairul to the Nazis and cloudy developments in Russia may have chilled sentiment, brokers said, but failed to touch off any real liquidation.
 This led to the thought the market possibly was overvalued. Concern over the tax program still was a slightly bearish influence.
 Among stocks union Pacific got up more than 2 at one time and plus marks running to a point or so were attached to Santa Fe, U.
 S. Steel, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck,
 Du Pont, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Chrysler and General Motors.

 receipts, active market and prices again to the point of liquidation marked the Saturday auction at the Bucyrus Live Stock Commission. The auctioneer sold 1,386 animals, including 1,350
 head of stock. Quotations follow:

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENINO, M. D.

Examining the Heart

Heart disease is becoming one of the three or four most prevalent American diseases. This is partly due to the fact that Americans now live longer—long enough to get heart disease—and also partly due to the perfection of our means of diagnosis in recognizing the different forms; few cases get missed, so they all get in the statistics.

In fact the oldest and still one of the best methods of objective diagnosis is the use of the stethoscope, which is developed in connection with its use in recognizing heart disease. The difference between objective diagnosis and subjective diagnosis is that in subjective diagnosis the patients tell you what is the matter; you can neither prove nor disprove it. If a patient says, "I have a headache," there is no way on earth for you to tell whether that is true or not.

The objective diagnosis the physician tells the patient. If a patient has a heart murmur, the stethoscope will reveal it and the doctor is on safe and certain ground.

Another indispensable method of examining the heart in an objective way is the X-ray. It will tell the size of the heart; any bulges in the heart for great vessels. It tells things that the stethoscope can not tell because there are certain limitations to the stethoscope. When a condition of the heart is deep-seated, layers of lung tissue or the stethoscope cannot bring it to the examining ear. I saw a patient the other day who showed great dilation of the heart and great vessels on the X-ray, whereas three very competent physicians had just pronounced the heart and chest entirely normal.

Still another method of examining the heart is the blood pressure apparatus, which tells the condition not only of the heart but of the entire arterial system.

The last of the great objective methods of examining the heart is what is known as the electrocardiograph. This is a very delicate electric galvanometer which is able to record differences in electrical potentials when a muscle contracts. The heart, being a muscle, makes a record on the electrocardiograph, which reveals the working of its muscular contractions.

By these methods, the examiner can tell what is the matter with a heart, often without even asking the patient a question. The heart makes certain sounds during its contractions and relaxations and these are transmitted by the stethoscope. There are certain normal sounds and there are a number of abnormal sounds.

With the X-ray the examiner can tell the exact size of the heart, its position in the chest and whether or not it has any weakness in its walls. The blood pressure apparatus tells the examiner how much work the heart has to do and how much work it is doing.

The electrocardiograph tells whether the contraction wave of the heart passes over the right pathways, whether it does so in

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"NOEL was a perfect lamb all this afternoon and tonight," Mary answered quickly. "He evidently was much impressed by your explanation of the necessity for my keeping up my dining and luncheon with Steve."

"And then, too," she went on musingly, "I think the fact that Olina's going to make a third on the excursion had a great deal to do with his docility. He doesn't exactly cotton to having me traveling to dinner alone with Steve."

"I can understand that," I said, "especially—"

"Especially," she echoed with a wry smile, "when he thinks of the stuff I was pulling with Steve. He doesn't know how you took every inch of skin off my back with your knout last night."

"I'm awfully ashamed of the way I behaved Noel with my pretense of being interested in Steve," she said, "all because I thought mistakenly, as I can see now, that Noel was neglecting me."

"But I'm not ashamed of what I'm doing now," she said stoutly. "Now that Noel has fallen into line, I shall just go to town on Steve and see how much I can dig up about this subversive stuff he's pulling."

Olina Not Interested

"And Olina's going across town," she went on with a gamin grin. "In fact, I don't know but Olina's going to cut me out with my leading man."

"What do you mean by that?" I asked sharply, for I felt personally responsible to Olina for having enticed her daughter's aid in this espionage on Stephen Redfield.

"Did Olina show any undue interest in Stephen tonight, while you three were arranging the appointments for tomorrow night?"

"No, not any interest due, either," she quipped, then interjected a quick apology.

"Sorry and you're entitled to begin for that one, too," she began. "Honestly, I won't spring another one today. So now let me assure you in proper language that Olina isn't a bit interested in Stephen, although she's pretending fascination (the same as I am)." Olina's certainly stalling up and taking notice of Olina, she went on a grin still quivering at the corners of her mouth. "I suppose it's partly the glamour of associating with a real princess and having her apparently handing on her words, but partly it's because Steve never misses any bet, where a pretty girl is concerned, and the normal time and whether there are any interruptions or irregularities in the contraction wave. By these various means the examiner has an objective record of the heart in action.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. W. Do you think the head of a bed being raised up twelve inches is of any benefit to a person with low blood pressure?

Answer: No.

Olina is all that and then some, you know."

"Yes, I know," I said, absently then roused to qualify my answer. "But as Mrs. Ticer would say, she doesn't hold a candle to you."

"I'm afraid you're looking at me through the rosiest of pink glasses fitted over the eyes of love," she countered. "But I'm tremendously complimented, nevertheless. And now is there anything else you wish to know? I left Noel cooling his heels in our apartment, and—"

"And of course you want to get down there," I told her. "I don't need you any longer, although I'm always glad to have you with me. But you remember my father said he wished to see you before you slept."
